7. Operational Procedures: Introduction

- 7.1. The vetting process, to ensure LSST publicity materials provide adequate and essential information to prospective students in a clear, timely and accurate manner for all public information, is coordinated through the LSST Publications Committee.
- 7.2. The Marketing Department coordinates all website content, advertising, and broadcasting or meet the key outcomes of the policy in conjunction with process owners.
- 7.3. Responsibility for the vetting of proposed public information is the responsibility of process owners before formal submission to the Publications Committee for review and approval. Information reviewed for approval by the Publications Committee is as follows:
 - Printed material for external use/consumption e.g. Prospectus, fact sheets, marketing material,
 - Public web pages e.g. LSST website, social media sites (Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter).

Information published on the Intranet for internal use such as Human Resources Policies will be reviewed and approved by the Quality Committee, in line with governance requirements, before uploading to the intranet for staff use.

- 7.4. Final approval is conveyed to the Marketing Department by the Chair of the Publications Committee – the School Principal.

8. Responsible Role Holders

- 8.1. Responsibility for vetting school, campus or programme-specific information rests with the relevant Marketing contact, the academic lead for each programme (where course details, specifications are required), the Director of Admissions and Marketing and the Publications Committee.

9. Vetting Process for Public Information Publicity Materials

- 9.1. Stakeholders are required to allow sufficient time for the creation of any and all materials. Engagement with the vetting process is paramount to ensure accuracy.

- 9.2. Key stakeholders propose an advertisement or other promotional material (both online and offline) to the Marketing Department by completing a Marketing, Copy and Design Brief.
- 9.3. The Marketing Department creates the draft marketing communication material and forwards the proposed advertisements or promotional materials to the relevant liaison person (both Academic lead and relevant stakeholders). Each job and request is logged on the central drive in the relevant job log spreadsheet and is given a unique job number, job description and deadline date, from receipt of a brief and/or a request from within the department.
- 9.4. The designated department/individual will vet the advertisement or promotional material/news to ensure that it is complete, accurate and in compliance with any awarding body's requirements (referencing any agreed brand guidelines or instructions from the awarding body) and with the Regulatory Framework's Principles and Indicators (or independent governance process). Feedback is normally expected within three working days.
- 9.5. If required in accordance with any agreements with the programme's awarding body or other external stakeholders or partners, the designated Department or a member of the Marketing team, where applicable, shall forward the draft marketing communication for approval.
- 9.6. After vetting by the relevant department (including any external approvals from key partners) the Marketing Department implements any required changes, discusses and seeks final approval to issue the publicity material from the Publications Committee.
- 9.7. In cases involving new programmes, partners or significant changes to previously approved content in the public domain, the Head of Marketing or designate will consult with the LSST Principal via the Publications Committee to seek formal sign-off.
- 9.8. Upon receiving approval, the Marketing Department team member will then log the sign-off from the Publications Committee and link a job log spreadsheet to the relevant sign-off to ensure an accurate audit trail. The Marketing Department will then advertise or disseminate the publicity material and make the same available to prospective students at the appropriate time using the intended mechanism.
- 9.9. The Marketing Department will file the final approved advertisement / promotional material / news in their archive.
- 9.10. Staff are informed of the said advertisement / promotional material. Updates are provided through the Website Log and Publications Log maintained by the Marketing Department and the Policy Log, maintained by the Quality Team, which are circulated to Executive Committee members who ensure their managers are appropriately briefed.

9.11. Vetting Process for Publicity Materials: Visual Flowchart

9.12. Process for Making Website Changes

10. Bi-Annual Review and Improvement Procedure

10.1. The Marketing Department annually reviews all marketing related design and copy to ensure it is accurate, comprehensive and aligned with LSST values and confirmed Brand Guidelines. This review covers:

- Conformity to the set Brand Guidelines;
- Accuracy of information;
- The operation of any promotions and the related terms and conditions;
- Choice of words, accuracy and ability to substantiate any claims made in promotional materials (e.g. “best tutors” etc.)

10.2. Any minor, regular changes (e.g. amendments to wording, stylistic changes, etc.) are executed by the responsible marketing manager/team leader/brand team and are recorded in the log, noting the affected marketing material, the changes made and the effective date.

10.3. When a need for a significant revision is identified, it is executed in accordance with expectations outlined by the Publications Committee.

10.4. The Marketing Department archives all promotional and recruitment material in the central creative drive for future reference.

10.5. As part of the bi-annual Internal Review process, LSST Publications Committee will regularly review the processes and procedures in respect of course advertisement and promotion for continual improvement.

11. Responses to Complaints or Feedback related to Published Information

- 11.1. Whilst LSST proactively seeks to avoid any instance of misleading or erroneous published information through adherence to this policy, it is acknowledged that corrective action may be necessary in response to complaints or feedback.
- 11.2. Complaints or feedback relating to published information is likely to be generated via the following sources:
 - 11.2.1. Student comments and complaints;
 - 11.2.2. Comments or complaints from partner awarding bodies or universities and/or accreditation and regulation bodies;
 - 11.2.3. Comments or complaints from third party stakeholders, e.g. Competition Markets Authority (CMA), Office for Students (OfS) or members of the public.
- 11.3. In the case of student feedback and complaints relating to published information, these are passed onto the Student Support Officer or Complaints Officer at LSST via the relevant published complaints procedure. The complaint is then investigated with the involvement of the Publications Committee and/or any other persons directly involved in the issue. Where necessary remedial action is carried out as per the complaints procedure.
- 11.4. Where complaints or comments are received from a programme's Awarding Body, these are delivered to the Contact Person for that Awarding Body via the LSST Quality team. The issues are investigated and addressed as above and a formal response is conveyed to the awarding body with revised text, as required.
- 11.5. Whenever a complaint is received, the vetting processes will be reviewed and evaluated to assess and mitigate the risks of reoccurrence.

PART THREE: Processes to Support and Ensure the Accuracy of Public Information Related to New Programmes

12. Introduction of New Programmes and Modules

- 12.1. LSST offers higher education academic award bearing courses through collaboration with a partner with degree awarding powers. Therefore, the programme's admission requirements, content and assessment will be prescribed by the awarding institution, which will also have its own quality assurance processes with which the School will be required to comply.
- 12.2. An exception to this is partnerships with Awarding Bodies such as Edexcel or other Ofsted approved awarding bodies. When working with an Awarding Body which allows flexibility and autonomy in terms of entry criteria, such criteria are agreed based on advice from the awarding body.
- 12.3. When considering new programmes and modules, LSST Academic team seeks to ensure that:
 - The new programme or module is consistent with the Mission Statement;
 - There are, or will be, sufficient resources available to ensure that potential students are able to satisfy the outcomes of the programme;
 - The application form and any supporting documentation presented to the partner institution is prepared and presented in a way that ensures confidence on the part of that institution and complies with the requirements of the partner awarding body or university partner;
 - That no marketing collateral or marketing activity takes place without the permission of the partnering awarding body.
- 12.4. LSST recognises that there is a need to clearly illustrate that the institution is aware of the necessity to have a PIP in terms of new product development and product launch or going towards product launch, in advance of the appointment of a Course Leader (CL). This Process acknowledges that:
 - The CL is the authorised person for each course.
 - At development stage of new products an appointed Associate Dean will conduct a handover to the appointed Course Leader. The Course Leader and Principal will ensure that relevant training and content is provided to the marketing, admissions, work placement and student support teams.
 - There will be a formal signoff and handover between stages between the Associate Dean and the Course Leader with specific dates.
